"THANK YOU FOR YOUR SUPPORT, AT SUCH A BUSY TIME IT REQUIRES GREAT DEDICATION TO FOLLOW US AND WE TRULY APPRECIATE IT"

Good evening and welcome back to Wembley.

It is our third home game in a week tonight and we want to round it off with a win before heading on the road for our next three games ahead of the international break.

We dominated the game here against Swansea on Saturday and did everything apart from score. We lacked a bit of luck and need to be more clinical. We move on and will put that right.

The schedule is busy at the moment with the games coming thick and fast and we have to be careful how we manage the workload of the players. This month sees us play seven games in 21 days which is a challenge for any squad. We monitor the players closely and ensure they each have the right schedules and training programmes to be in the best condition to play.

We welcome Barnsley and their manager Paul Heckingbottom this evening. They will receive our maximum respect and we will approach them like we do all of our opponents. We know how strong the Championship is as a league and any side from that division will provide tough opposition.

Like us, they have a young squad and I'm sure they will be full of motivation to come here and cause an upset tonight. We must be ready for that from the first whistle.

The League Cup has given us some good experiences over the last few seasons and provided some of our players a platform on which they can develop and learn. We welcome it back and like every competition we play, we will aim to win the trophy.

Thank you for your support, at such a busy time it requires great dedication to follow us and we truly appreciate it.

Enjoy the game.

DIER'S FRUSTRATION AT SWANSEA STALEMATE

Eric Dier spoke on behalf of everyone of a Spurs persuasion after Saturday's game against Swansea City, highlighting his frustration at our goalless draw.

Despite having three-quarters of the possession here at Wembley, we couldn't find a way through the Swans' resolute defence, with Harry Kane striking the woodwork and Lukasz Fabianksi making a number of key saves to keep us at bay.

"Everyone is frustrated," said Eric, speaking in the tunnel after the final whistle. "We dominated from start to finish and we just couldn't break them down. Fair play to Swansea, they were very well organised, well drilled but we still believe we're good enough to break teams down and that wasn't the case today.

"The whole game was played in their half in the second period, we just lacked a bit of quality on the final pass or final shot or finding the space to get that pass or shot away. That's football. If you don't score, you don't win and it's pretty simple really."

FOXES OUTFOXED BY DILAN'S DOUBLE

An early brace from Dilan Markanday ensured our youngsters made a winning start to the new Under-18 Premier League Cup at Leicester City on Saturday morning.

The wide man was alert to pounce on rebounded shots from Phoenix Patterson twice inside 12 minutes as we opened brightly at the Foxes' training ground.

Khanya Leshabela halved our lead from the penalty spot midway through the second period but we survived some late pressure with Jonathan De Bie pulling off an important save and Leicester's Morgan Brown hitting the post to ensure our campaign in Group E of the new competition got off to the best possible start.

Dilan Markanday scored twice against Leicester on Saturday

Anton on target in Atlanta rout

A productive week for our on-loan players last week continued in the early hours of Thursday morning as Anton Walkes scored in a 7-0 rout of New England Revolution by Atlanta United in the MLS.

Once again starting at right-back in Atlanta's new Mercedes-Benz Stadium, Anton capitalised on two early red cards for the visitors to score the hosts' fourth goal of the night in first-half stoppage time, latching onto a ball over the top and converting from a tight angle on the right.

It was Anton's second goal in Atlanta colours and came hot on the heels of another young defender, Cameron Carter-Vickers, bagging his first goal on his debut for loan club Sheffield United last Tuesday.

The 7-0 win saw Atlanta set a new record for the most goals ever in a game for an MLS expansion side, while equalling the largest margin of victory for any team in the history of the competition. It was also the first time ever a team had been restricted to zero shots in a game, as Atlanta kept their opponents at bay.

Danny Blanchflower training at the Lane with Dave Mackay in 1959

OH DANNY BOY!

Andy Greeves tells a story from our vast history that has a link to our matchday opponents. This evening, we look at the career of our legendary former skipper Danny Blanchflower, who began his career in English football with Barnsley.

In March, 2015, a commemorative blue plaque was unveiled at the childhood home of Robert Dennis 'Danny' Blanchflower on Grace Avenue in the Bloomfield area of Belfast. The Ulster History Circle, who organised the tribute to our late, great captain, described him as "a superb player, a canny tactician, an incurable romantic and maverick sage."

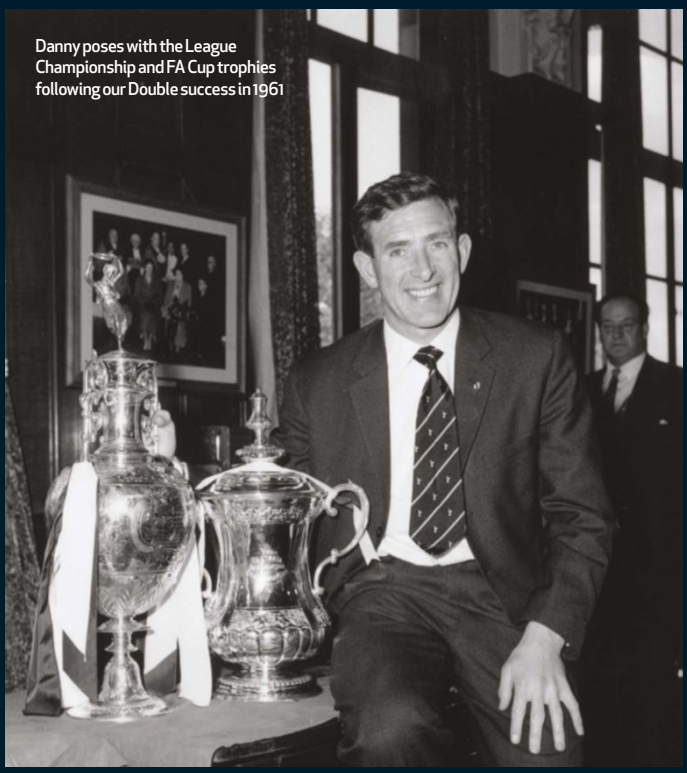
Forever remembered in Northern Ireland, Blanchflower – who was born in Belfast on February 10, 1926 - represented his country 56 times as a player between 1949 to 1962 and managed them in a further 24 matches from 1976 to 1979. He left an indelible mark on the English game, both as a footballer and journalist. Having begun his career with local side Glentoran, he developed a reputation as one of the finest right-halves in the game with Barnsley and Aston Villa before signing for us in 1954. In all, he spent 16 seasons in the Football League as a player before managing Chelsea between 1978 and 1979. Later, he penned a regular column on the sport in the Sunday Express through until 1988.

Danny was 23 when he made the move across the Irish Sea to sign for Barnsley in April, 1949, for a fee of £6,000. His debut for the Tykes came in a Sheffield County Cup match at home to Rotherham prior to his first league appearance against Chesterfield on May 7 that year. The South Yorkshire side finished ninth in the old Division Two table in 1948-49 while we were fifth.



Danny poses with the League Championship and FA Cup trophies following our Double success in 1961

The 1949-50 season began well for both Barnsley and Blanchflower. Five wins, four draws and just two defeats in the first 11 matches at the start of the campaign saw the Tykes challenging at the top of the table in the opening months. Danny, meanwhile, made his senior debut for Northern Ireland against Scotland in Belfast on October 1, 1949.

Barnsley's form suffered greatly when Blanchflower broke his foot in a 2-2 draw at Leicester City on October 15 and the player was ruled out for a number of games. In his absence, they lost three of their five league matches. The injury also denied Danny his first opportunity to play at White Hart Lane a few weeks later. Goals from Eddie Baily and Len Duquemin saw us beat the Tykes 2-0 on October 29.

Despite his injury, Blanchflower still managed to play in 36 of Barnsley's 42 Division Two matches that campaign. That included a 2-0 league success over us at Oakwell on March 18, 1950, with Fred Richardson and Billy Beakin on target for the Tykes that afternoon. That was one of just seven defeats we suffered all season as we went on to claim the Division Two title. Barnsley meanwhile finished 13th.

The following campaign saw Danny make 31 league appearances for them in a season of mixed fortunes for the Tykes. The ecstasy of beating Division Two champions-to-be Preston North End 4-1 at Oakwell on October 21, 1950, and high-scoring successes over the likes of Hull City (4-2), Luton Town (6-1) and Queens Park Rangers (7-0) were tempered by a 3-1 defeat to the league's bottom side Grimsby Town on February 24, 1951. A 7-0 away defeat at Preston meanwhile proved to be Blanchflower's last match for the team.

A fee of £15,000 saw him move from Barnsley to top-flight side Aston Villa in March, 1951. He departed Oakwell having made 68 league appearances, scoring twice, while he also played for them in two FA Cup matches.

Blanchflower was a big hit at Villa Park and an almost ever-present in the side during his time there. He made 155 appearances in the League and FA Cup for the Midlanders, scoring 10 times. The Villains managed a sixth-place finish in Division One in 1951-52, with Danny playing all 42 league matches that season, but they only achieved mid-table positions in his other campaigns with the club.

In late 1954, we outbid Arsenal to secure Danny's services for a fee of £30,000. Arthur Rowe's signing proved to be an inspired one. The right-half's debut for us came at Manchester City on December 11, 1954 – one of 382 appearances he would make for us in all competitions during his nine-year stay, in which time he netted 21 times.

He was the captain of our legendary 'Double' winning side of 1960-61, lifting both the Football League trophy and FA Cup that season. He scored a penalty in our 3-1 FA Cup Final victory over Burnley on May 5, 1962, while he skippered us to European Cup Winners' Cup success a year later, as we became the first British club to win a major continental competition. His last competitive appearance for us came away to Manchester United on November 9, 1963, while his retirement from playing was announced the following April.

During his time at White Hart Lane, Blanchflower was twice voted the Football Writers' Player of Year, in both 1958 and 1961, Such was his impact in our colours that The Times placed our former skipper at the top of their list of Tottenham Hotspur's Best Players of All-Time back in 2009. Few could argue with that selection.

On May 1, 1990, we beat a Northern Ireland XI in a benefit match for Danny at White Hart Lane, with David Howells and Paul Gascoigne on target. At this stage in his life, our former player was in the first stages of what would later be diagnosed as Alzheimer's and Parkinson's disease and he passed away on December 9, 1993, aged 67. As two of his former sides prepare to meet this evening, memories of the Ulsterman remain strong for those fortunate enough to have seen him play while new generations have learnt of his legacy at both clubs.

THE WISDOM OF DANNY

With his dry wit and neat turn of phrase, Danny Blanchflower was one of the most quotable footballers of a generation. He once described his sport as "a simple game made complicated by people who should know better"!

He is also responsible for one of Tottenham Hotspur's greatest mottos – 'The Game is About Glory', inspired by another of his descriptions of football…

"The great fallacy is that the game is first and last about winning. It is nothing of the kind. The game is about glory, it is about doing things in style and with a flourish, about going out and beating the other lot, not waiting for them to die of boredom."

Many thanks to Barnsley Football Club historian David Wood for his assistance with this article

In February, 2008, a 10-year-old Spurs fan from Edmonton looked down from the top tier of the stands here at Wembley as Jonathan Woodgate won us the League Cup with an extra-time header against Chelsea in the final.

Fast forward to the present day and that same lad, now 20 and part of our first team squad, dreams of following a similar path and helping to bring that same piece of silverware back to the club for what would be a fifth time in our history.

For Kyle Walker-Peters, that journey begins tonight.

With a Premier League debut on the opening day of the season at Newcastle United under his belt, the fledgling full-back has remained in and around the matchday squad in recent weeks and would like nothing more than to pick up some more game time as we embark on another League Cup campaign with high hopes all round.

"On a personal level I would love to get some more minutes in this competition and use it as an opportunity to impress but on a team note, we're looking to win this trophy," said the Academy graduate. "We're all winners here, we look to win these competitions and hopefully this year we can do it. Obviously we have to take it one step at a time, though, and so first and foremost we have to try to beat Barnsley tonight.

"We mustn't look beyond this game at the moment but I remember being here when Woodgate scored in the final in 2008. I was young, only 10 and I was sitting very high up in the stands. I could just about see what was going on but it was a brilliant day and as a Tottenham fan, having supported the team growing up, it was great to see. The fans went crazy and seeing it as a young boy, you look at it and wish you were there, you start visualising yourself in that situation and now I have the opportunity to possibly go and do that. It's early days at the moment but we want to go all the way in this competition and doing it at Wembley would be unique with it being our home ground for the season."

"THOSE EARLY MONTHS OF THE YEAR WERE QUITE A TOUGH TEST WITH THE STEP UP TO THE FIRST TEAM, THE INTENSITY, THE PHYSICALITY"

Whatever happens on this night – "Barnsley are a Championship side and it could be a different style of football that we'll be coming up against, maybe a bit more physical," warns Kyle – it's been a marvellous 2017 for this young man. It all started with a place on the bench in the early rounds of last season's FA Cup run and a fantastic opportunity to train with and learn from our senior squad on a daily basis. He then reaffirmed his love for his boyhood club by signing a new contract on Valentine's Day.

"It's been a whirlwind year so far but I'm very proud," smiled Kyle, who primarily plays as a right-back but has also been known to operate on the left side of defence. "Those early months of the year were quite a tough test with the step up to the first team, the intensity, the physicality. You have to adapt and that is a challenge but you enjoy it as a player. Being on the bench, watching and learning from the players I was training with really helped me."

Then came a place in the England squad for the FIFA Under-20 World Cup in South Korea in the summer. On the bench for the Young Lions' first two matches, he came into the starting line-up at left-back for the third and final group game against the host nation and held down his spot for the remainder of the competition, helping his country beat Venezuela in the final to become the first England side at any level to win a World Cup since 1966.

"When I went to the World Cup I wasn't sure whether I was going to play too much because I'd missed the previous trip (a warm-up tournament in France) due to injury," Kyle explained. "I was working hard because of course I wanted to be part of the team and help us achieve what we did. When I got my chance in the third game, I didn't look back and I ended up playing in the final, which was incredible. The whole experience was surreal and I still can't believe it's all happened, even now. It felt like a dream, running around and seeing all the English fans. There were quite a few Tottenham fans out there as well. It was a fantastic experience."

That tournament allowed Kyle to showcase his versatility by playing at left-back. "The only difference for me with left-back is obviously that I'm right-footed," he said. "I can use my left foot well, I can cross with it but on the left side I can sometimes cut in and have a few more shots and maybe get a goal. I feel comfortable playing both sides and really it's the same defensive job, the same job offensively too, so for me it's not a major difference."

Next up was a trip to America with our first team in pre-season, where Kyle featured in all three matches against Paris Saint-Germain, Roma and Manchester City. "The tour was very tough," he reflected. "I started both the PSG and Roma games – PSG at right-back, Roma at left-back – and they were games against top European sides. It was a test but I used it as an opportunity to learn. I came up against Javier

"I FEEL COMFORTABLE PLAYING BOTH SIDES AND REALLY IT'S THE SAME DEFENSIVE JOB, THE SAME JOB OFFENSIVELY TOO, SO FOR ME IT'S NOT A MAJOR DIFFERENCE"

CAREER SO FAR

STARTING OUT
Joined our Academy aged 11, becoming a full-time scholar in July, 2013, having made his Under-18s debut against Liverpool in April that year. Signed as a professional in December, 2014.

MAKING PROGRESS
Played regularly for our Under-18s and Development teams over the next few years, including playing in four of our six UEFA Youth League fixtures last season.

BREAKING THROUGH
Appeared in our matchday squad for the first time when he was on the bench for our Premier League win over Bournemouth at the Lane in March, 2016, and was also an unused sub twice in the FA Cup last season.

Pastore in the PSG game and lined up next to Dani Alves – those are individuals that you look at and think 'these are some of the best players in the world' so, like I said, I used it as a test and the players helped me get through it, always giving me advice, which was helpful."

An injury to Kieran Trippier in our final pre-season match of the summer against Juventus here at Wembley then paved the way for an even greater milestone – a starting berth and a Man of the Match performance in our 2-0 win at Newcastle on the first day of the Premier League season. "Again, it was like a dream," he said. "Once you get a little taste of it, you always want more and you're very eager but I'm still young, I need to stay patient and I need to keep learning from the players around me."

A local lad who, as a child, played football on the streets around Tottenham – "We used to use people's hedges as goals. Luckily my neighbours knew who I was and knew that I really did enjoy playing football, so a lot of the time they let me off!" he told Spurs TV recently – Kyle subsequently earned another new contract and his remarkable story continued this month when he and the rest of the World Cup-winning England Under-20 squad joined HRH The Duke of Cambridge for a special reception at Kensington Palace in celebration of their summer achievements. How he'd love to share such esteemed company again by climbing up to the Royal Box at this very stadium to collect the trophy he first saw hoisted skyward by Ledley King less than a decade ago.

WORLD CUP WINNER

Having previously won caps at Under-18 and Under-19 levels for England, he made the Young Lions squad for the Under-20 World Cup in the summer, helping them to win the trophy in South Korea.

DREAM DEBUT

After impressing on our pre-season tour of the USA, he made his first team debut at Newcastle United on the opening day of this season, producing a man of the match display in our 2-0 triumph.

CUP TIES AGAINST LOWER-LEAGUE SIDES

Of the seven domestic cup ties we played last season, five were against teams from lower leagues and all of them ended in victories.

Now we find ourselves with a tricky test against Championship side Barnsley as we take our first steps in this season's Carabao Cup.

So why have we been largely successful against talented yet lower-ranked teams in our recent history and what's the key to ensuring we don't slip up? Here's what tonight's panel had to say on the subject...

What's the best way to approach these ties from a mental point of view?

MICHEL: "The same as any other game really. Obviously we need to win these kinds of matches, especially when we play at home. We're the favourites and if we approach it like any other game we should win. That's the most important thing. I think we have to look at ourselves. If we can perform the way we know we can play, we have the belief that we can beat them but on the other hand you also know that Barnsley are coming here with nothing to lose and that's very dangerous, so that's why we have to show from the first minute that we are ready to give everything again."

MARK: "The main thing would be to be focused. You need to match the lower league side's endeavour, work rate and commitment because, with respect, it can be considered a cup final for them. That raises their game so you need to match them for effort and spirit and once you do that, you should have no problems. If you look at the current Spurs side, one big reason that they're so successful at the moment is because of their work ethic and their commitment, so as long as that doesn't change against Barnsley I'm sure they'll be alright. Obviously human nature sometimes allows you to think that you might be in for an easier game because the other team is not from the Premier League but as a player you have to keep on reminding yourself that you've got to be at it because no football match is easily won, especially in this day and age. There are some very good professionals in the Championship and lower down the leagues so if you're not 100 per cent focussed, you might come unstuck."

BEN: "Generally from Spurs it's been pretty good in these situations but what's always interesting for lower-league teams and managers is to what extent they stick to what they usually do and say 'right, we're going to go out and play our usual game and impose ourselves on Spurs', as Wycombe did in the FA Cup last season. Or do they think 'we're playing Tottenham and we're going to worry about all their players and we're going to sit back'? Some managers will see this as their big day out, know that they've got this far playing a certain way of football and think that they're going to go out and try to give Spurs problems. They're not going to want to come away with regrets and if you play with backs to the wall, park the bus and lose you'll probably come away feeling like you haven't given your best. The flip side is if you go out there, go 2-0 down in 20 minutes and end up getting absolutely hammered, you're not coming off with a great sense of pride either. It's how you weigh up those two bad scenarios and it's bravery versus pragmatism – that's always the interesting question that I've had answered in conversation with managers when they've been playing higher-league sides."

Christian Eriksen

Davinson Sanchez

Can we expect to encounter a different playing style?

MARK: "You'll maybe find with the likes of Jan Vertonghen, Davinson Sanchez or whoever plays at the back that although they'll have a lot more possession, they'll still probably face as many, if not more, balls into their box because teams from the lower leagues tend to do that. Some of them do try to play but a lot of them play percentage football and get the ball into the box at every opportunity so they'll have to be aware from long throws, corners or free-kicks."

MICHEL: "It can go either way. Again, we have to look at ourselves. We are very good in possession and if you look at the games even against other Premier League teams, most of the time we have the majority of possession and if we do that against Barnsley and make sure that they don't create a lot, we should be ok."

Some teams choose to rotate in this competition. Can that be a factor as well?

BEN: "At this stage last season it was 5-0 against Gillingham at home. We all know it wasn't Spurs' first-choice team but they still dealt very well with playing a team below them, their quality shone through and if there's a couple of first-choice players in there, like Christian Eriksen who I remember played very well this time last year, they've got the quality to beat them. I would say that Spurs' second string looks much stronger this year than last. It was the big thing they needed to improve and they've definitely done that."

MARK: "It's a great opportunity to blood some of the youngsters but the manager will want to get the blend of youth and experience right to make sure that you come away with the right result. If you give the young lads a chance to play with some more experience pros, that will benefit them a lot. When I played back in 1998, I had Luke Young around the squad alongside me and that made me feel comfortable knowing that I had him with me, but also I was able to look up to the more experienced players."

REMEMBER WHEN...

...we last met this evening's opponents on this day? It's a bit of a rhetorical question in truth, since the match took place way back in 1931 when both sides were in Division Two! The campaign was six games old at the time and we'd picked up six points from those games, a total of 26 goals being scored in those matches.

Barnsley had lost four of their six games, but the Tykes looked set for a win at White Hart Lane when they took a 2-0 lead thanks to two goals from Johnny Wallbanks. But we fought back in some style. Taffy O'Callaghan (pictured) netted twice while Jimmy Brain and Walter Bellamy were also on target as we turned the game around to take the points.

As our subsequent match programme said: 'It was pardonable for our supporters to be a bit downcast when Barnsley led by a couple of goals. Gloom was dispersed when the equaliser came along and there were radiant smiles when the lead was wrested from Barnsley.'

ON THIS DAY
September 19

2013
SPURS 3-0 TROMSO

We were in Europa League action on this day four years ago, with Norwegian side Tromso the visitors to White Hart Lane for a group stage game. It was a comfortable evening for us, with Jermain Defoe's first-half brace putting us in command at the interval and Christian Eriksen adding a third with just four minutes remaining. We won all six group games but went out to Benfica in the round of 16.

2000
BRENTFORD 0-0 SPURS

Our only other League Cup tie played on this day came in 2000, when we made the short trip to Griffin Park to face Brentford for the first leg of our second round tie. Goalkeeper Neil Sullivan saw red just after the hour mark, but we held out for a goalless draw. We finished the job in the return at the Lane, Oyvind Leonhardsen and Steffen Iversen on target.

1987
WEST HAM UNITED 0-1 SPURS

A London derby took place at Upton Park 30 years ago today and we returned to N17 with maximum points. Chris Fairclough was our unlikely match-winner, crashing home a 40th-minute volley to secure our first league victory at West Ham in 14 years.

Barnsley-born Heckingbottom first joined the club's coaching staff in 2011, working with the youth teams and development squad before becoming first-team coach. Appointed caretaker boss in 2016 – after filling the same role in 2015 – he led Barnsley to a Football League Trophy and League One Play-off final double, earning him the job of Head Coach and after guiding Barnsley to 14th in the Championship last season he was named Sports Hero of the Year for 2017 by The Yorkshire Post.

FORM GUIDE:

A 3-2 victory against Derby County in their Carabao Cup second round tie last Tuesday at Oakwell earned Barnsley a third trip to Wembley in two years and having won the last two Paul Heckingbottom's side will be hoping to cause a cup upset tonight. The Tykes have made a mixed start to their Championship campaign, beating sides like Nottingham Forest and Sunderland but losing to Bristol City and Sheffield United, and have the look of unpredictable opponents.

Potts has already scored at Wembley in 2017 after starring for Blackpool in the League Two Play-off Final against Exeter City. ## RYAN HEDGES

POSITION: MIDFIELDER
DATE OF BIRTH: 08.07.95
Hedges went to the same North-Wales school as Gary Speed and Michael Owen but failed to make the breakthrough at his first club Everton, moving on to Swansea City. The Welsh Under-21 international didn't make a first-team appearance for the Swans, but appeared for Leyton Orient, Stevenage and Yeovil Town before moving to Oakwell in January, 2017.

TOM BRADSHAW

POSITION: FORWARD

Capped once by Wales, he netted eight goals in his debut campaign with Barnsley last season.

DOUBLE EDGE

Winger Tom Forman played in Barnsley's FA Cup Final team in April, 1910. By the following February, he had signed for Spurs.

Division Two Barnsley were defeated by top-flight Newcastle United after a replay with Forman playing in both games, at Crystal Palace and then Goodison Park. We had gone out early to Swindon Town who the Magpies beat in the semi-final at White Hart Lane.

Barnsley were back at Crystal Palace in 1912 and once again they needed a replay – this time against West Bromwich Albion who had knocked us out in the first round. But they lifted the trophy at Bramall Lane thanks to an extra-time goal scored by Harry Tufnell who had also netted in the final two years earlier.

Forman, who was born in Basford, started out with local club Nottingham Forest where he made just three senior appearances in two years so opted to move to Manchester City in April, 1902.

However, first team opportunities were even more elusive at Hyde Road so Tom dropped into the non-league scene with Sutton Town of the Notts and Derbyshire League where he did well enough to attract the attention of Barnsley who signed him in June, 1907.

By now he possessed all the guile to showcase his excellent speed and direct running style in Division Two and quickly become a regular in the Barnsley first team.

He scored on his Spurs debut, a 6-2 home win over Middlesbrough, but was injured in his next game and sadly never fully recovered and was back in non league by the following year.

Triple Measure

England international Eddie Baily scored three goals in his career against Barnsley, including two in a 4-1 win at the Lane in November, 1948. Len Duquemin and Les Bennett were also on target for us. The Tykes had their revenge in the April return when they won by the same scoreline at Oakwell.

LOCAL HERO

Ernie Jones made his Spurs debut against Barnsley in a 1-1 Division Two draw at the Lane in June, 1947.

Jones had joined us from home-town club Swansea just days before and took his bow in what was the final game of a disappointing season that had seen us finish sixth in the final table.

Swansea went down with Newport County while Barnsley were 10th. It was the first season to feature a full football programme since the 1938-39 campaign when the national game was cancelled following the outbreak of war.

Jones, nicknamed 'Alphabet,' was a winger of pace and invention who won four caps for Wales. He had started out with Swansea as an amateur and, although he turned pro with Burnley, he failed to make a senior appearance for them.

Returning to Swansea during the war, he established such a reputation at the Vetch Field for goals and creativity that we paid a reported £7,000 to sign him. His two seasons with us saw him score 14 goals in 55 league outings. He left us for Southampton in the deal that brought us Alf Ramsey.

MAIN ISSUE

The programme for Barnsley's visit in June, 1947, was our usual four pager of the time. It was a simple production of blue type on white paper that cost two old pence.

With stats on the back, on page three and most of page two, there was not too much to read while the cover was devoted mainly to a recommendation that fans should buy 'The History of Tottenham Hotspur 1882-1946.'

Supporters were informed that the Enfield Central Band, who entertained the crowd at games, needed any spare clothing coupons to buy new uniforms. They were also advised to use the trolleybus to and from matches and that free chest x-rays were available in Edmonton.

However, there was an official line on transfers: "We have not spent any money in transfer fees because we could not obtain the players whom we sought." The squad was off on a four-match tour to the south of France.

Front Page

The year 1947 also saw Britain in the grip of the 'big freeze' with the lack of coal leading to power cuts and the RAF dropping food to stranded villages. The school leaving age was raised to 15 and Princess Elizabeth married Prince Philip.

British rule in India ended, the coal industry was nationalised and Denis Compton (pictured) made cricket history when he scored more runs (3,816) and centuries (18) in a single season. Great Expectations, starring John Mills, was on at the cinema.

FINE DISPLAY GETS EURO CHALLENGE OFF TO A FLYER

Catching up on the latest action from our Under-18s as we ease past Dortmund

Our Academy side scored four goals without reply to kick off this season's UEFA Youth League campaign with a statement win against Borussia Dortmund Under-19s last Wednesday afternoon.

We were superb in the first period, dominating the midfield for large spells and causing all manner of problems for the German side with our aggressiveness in attack during the game at Hotspur Way.

We got off to a bright start and took the lead after only four minutes. Marcus Edwards darted down the right and surged into the area, his run was too hot for Julian Schwermann to handle and the Dortmund skipper tripped him, Edwards dusting himself down to score the resulting penalty.

Centre-half Japhet Tanganga was proving a key figure at the back, taking responsibility for keeping Dortmund at arm's length. Gabriel Kyerematen did manage a turn and shot which went just over, but we looked more likely to score with Kazaiah Sterling outmuscling Soren Lippert to go through down the left side, only for Eike Bansen to get back and smother at his near post after the striker ran wide.

However, our second goal duly arrived on the half-hour mark as Keanan Bennetts burst forward from deep, exchanged passes with Dylan Duncan and evaded a tackle as he continued his run into the box before firing high past Bansen.

With the wind at our backs in the first half, two quickly became three as Edwards looped in a corner, Tanganga leapt to produce one of his trademark flying headers and Sterling got in front of the keeper to help it into the net.

The second half didn't quite have the same zest as the first but we still remained largely in the driving seat. After Lippert stuck out a leg to divert Edwards' free-kick onto his own crossbar, we grabbed a fourth goal just beyond the hour mark when Edwards embarked on a weaving run from half-way, skipped over a challenge and beat Bansen low down to his left, his effort trickling into the corner of the net.

George Marsh got forward from the back to test the visitors' goalkeeper with a glancing header from Edwards' cross, but Dortmund were starting to come into the game a bit more and after Marsh failed to clear his lines, the ball was teed up for Jano Baxmann to strike one from eight yards, but Brandon Austin somehow managed to turn it over the bar, keeping his clean sheet intact.

"It was certainly a good result," said coach Scott Parker. "I thought our play could have been a little bit better, we probably could have been a little bit more patient at times and really controlled the game but saying that, we can't moan – it was 4-0.

"I thought we showed a clinical side to our game and we did pretty well so it's pleasing in that respect. There's still room for improvement but we'll look to try to achieve that in the next few games.

"We caused them a few problems and it could have been five at half-time to be honest. That was pleasing but coming in at half-time, we said that the next goal was crucial and we needed to stay on it. I thought we started the second half a bit slowly but it was pleasing to get the goal and control the game after that."

KANE THE CENTURION

Harry Kane became the 17th player to score 100 goals for the club when he netted his first against Everton recently. To celebrate, we get the thoughts of other members of the '100 Club' on Harry's achievement, take a closer look at the stats involved and speak with the man himself.

JOINING THE ELITE

A product of our Academy, Harry Kane scored his first goal in our colours in the Europa League against Shamrock Rovers back in December, 2011, and initially broke into the team at the end of the 2013-14 season, when he scored in three successive Premier League matches.

His career really took off in 2014-15 when he scored 31 goals in all competitions – the first player to get over 30 for us since Gary Lineker in 1991-92.

He's followed that up with 28 goals in 2015-16 and then 35 last season, completing back-to-back Golden Boots along the way by notching 25 and then 29 goals in the Premier League in those seasons.

Harry completed his century in 169 matches and his second at Everton together with his brace against Borussia Dortmund last Wednesday took his tally to 103 and saw him climb to 15th on our all-time goalscorers chart.

Jimmy Greaves tops the list with his club record 266 goals in 379 appearances in all competitions between 1961-70.

HARRY SETS SIGHTS HIGH

Typical of the man, no sooner had Harry Kane hit his century of goals in our colours than he was already targeting his next 100 strikes for Spurs.

The dust had barely settled on his achievement, reached at Goodison Park last weekend, and Harry was looking forward.

"It's a fantastic feeling, a fantastic achievement," said the 24-year-old. "It's a proud moment but for me, it's about getting another 100 as soon as I can. That's what it's about, helping the team – and it was an excellent win against Everton.

"It's been three or four years now in the first team and it goes so quickly," he reflected. "As a footballer, time flies by. You have to take your moments, take every opportunity and try to maintain it and that's what I've been able to do in my career so far - hopefully I'll keep doing that for the rest of it too."

"AS A FOOTBALLER, TIME FLIES BY. YOU HAVE TO TAKE EVERY OPPORTUNITY"

GOALSCORING GREATS HAVE THEIR SAY...

Six members of our '100 Club' – Martin Chivers, Cliff Jones, Jermain Defoe, Alan Gilzean, Teddy Sheringham and Robbie Keane, all paid tribute to Harry Kane after the striker reached the century milestone recently.

Here's what they had to say on our England international's achievement as he joined an elite group of Spurs strikers.

MARTIN CHIVERS (1968-74) – 174 GOALS

"The main thing about Harry in my view is that he can score with both feet because not all great goalscorers can do that. He's an all-round scorer of goals and that's a handy ability to have, especially when he gets into the positions he finds himself in. He's found that bit of acceleration and that's important, you need pace up front in the modern game. One important thing I'd also like to add is that this success over the last couple of seasons hasn't changed him at all. He's still the most likeable fella you'd want to meet. I had my day and he's having his – and I hope he enjoys his career as much as I did."

CLIFF JONES (1958-68) – 159 GOALS

"Harry is right up there now, an established player. I remember I was out in Benfica for the second leg of our Europa League tie (March, 2014). Harry came off the bench and he immediately added something. He was winning balls in the air, getting shots at goal and I thought 'who's this kid?' and look now, it's all there. It's great he's come through the system as well. He loves the club, like me. You can tell it means so much to him. It's just a matter of time before he passes me, that's for sure. I'm sure he'll catch up with me, Big Chiv, Bobby Smith. Then it's Jimmy Greaves. There is only one Jimmy Greaves. He was the best ever."

JERMAIN DEFOE (2004-14) – 143 GOALS

"It's not easy to score goals in the Premier League now. The league is so strong, home and away. I just think he's in the perfect team. No team is going to create more chances. I said ages ago 'H' was a finisher. I said to the guys how good he was and if he got the chance, he would score goals. I'm not surprised with how well he's done. He's got there through sheer hard work and he's someone who loves to score goals. That's just in you, and you keep practising, then in a game, it comes naturally and that's why he scores so many goals. He's strong, he's big and he's grown a lot.

"HE'S A WONDERFUL PLAYER AND HE HAS A GREAT FUTURE AHEAD OF HIM"

"I never had that height! For someone that size, his balance…a lot of the time you see him and he's got the ball, holding defenders off and he looks off balance but they still can't get the ball off him because he's so strong and then he always gets his shots off, from all different angles and he always hits the target. He's still young as well and I'm confident he'll keep on scoring and scoring. As I said, it's just in you."

ALAN GILZEAN (1964-74) – 133 GOALS

"Harry has done tremendously well. He's a wonderful player and he has a great future ahead of him. He's such a good striker. His goalscoring ability and link-up play is fantastic, he's leading the line well, his control has improved, weight of pass, his awareness…in the last four years or so he's improved tremendously. He's the top striker in the Premier League and deservedly so. If he's not top goalscorer for the third season in a row, he won't be far off!"

TEDDY SHERINGHAM (1992-2003) – 124 GOALS

"I'm running out of things to say about Harry. I've said it before – he's becoming a world-class player. To get 100 goals so quickly is great credit to him. He has great focus about him, knows what he wants and he's not just a goalscorer, he brings other players into play as well, sets people up, he's phenomenal. Sometimes strikers at a young age don't realise how hard it is to score goals, not everyone can do it. It's an art and he's got that. He shoots from every angle because he knows he can score and he knows how to score. A lot of people can't do that, it's not there. Harry can do it from everywhere. You have to be focused, single-minded. He's very much like Alan Shearer in that way. He wants to score goals, he's expected to and he enjoys that and the pressure it brings on him. He handles it all so well. People kept having question marks but he kept scoring and keeps getting better. He's a leader and leads by example. I just hope he keeps doing it for Spurs and England."

ROBBIE KEANE (2002-11) – 122 GOALS

"First of all, it's great that Harry came through the club's Academy system, that's so refreshing. To get 100 goals is a great feat and you feel you've really achieved something. There are not many players who have scored 100 goals for Spurs so to be in that group, all I can say is welcome to the '100 Club'!

"Harry has an all-round game. He competes and gets on the ball, he scores from long range and in the box, he can come short, is good in the air and he's one of those players who is very hard to mark. He can play as a (number) 10 or nine and defenders find that hard. He's scored over 20 goals in each of the last three seasons and if he continues to do that, who knows how far he'll go?

"HE'S NOT JUST A GOALSCORER – HE BRINGS OTHER PLAYERS INTO PLAY, SETS PEOPLE UP..."

"When you are a goalscorer you never lose that knack. You might go three or four without scoring but once you get back on track, off you go again and Harry has that mentality. The players in the '100 Club' are unbelievable, world-class players. Not many players reach that 100 mark. All those players have an affiliation towards Spurs and a love for the club – Harry's the same."

TRIPLE ADVENTURE

It was 31 years ago when John Fennelly joined Spurs fans on the road to Barnsley and witnessed an incredible scrap that set the scene for a campaign that few Tottenham fans will forget. However, one cup challenge almost ended before it begun as the Tykes provided one of our biggest tests of an intriguing season.

Season 1986-87 was one of drama, excitement and relentless pressure as we attacked all three domestic competitions with real optimism but ultimately ended up empty-handed after 57 games.

We were competitive on all fronts and looked good in Division One until our challenge tailed off in the final games as we finished third behind champions Everton and runners-up Liverpool.

Manager David Pleat's innovative line-up, that saw Clive Allen at the spearhead as the lone striker in a wonderfully-balanced side, reached the FA Cup Final where, against all the odds, we crashed to Coventry City who beat us 3-2 here after extra time.

Shaun Close

That followed our League Cup marathon to the semi-final stage when Arsenal beat us at White Hart Lane in a replay that saw Clive net in all three games.

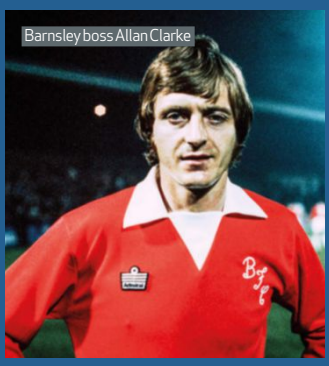
Then known as the Littlewoods Challenge Cup, we had set off on that particular road by making the second round trip to Barnsley where more than 10,000 were at Oakwell to watch our 3-2 battling victory before we finished the job 5-3 at the Lane. And at no stage as the two sides shared those 13 goals could we relax as the

Hoddle and Waddle

Tykes refused to abandon the cause.

Barnsley would finish in Second Division mid-table that season and reach the fifth round of the FA Cup before losing 2-0 at Highbury. Under Allan Clarke's leadership, Sniffer's second spell in charge after his earlier shift as player-manager, the Reds enjoyed some memorable cup nights and we were well aware of that potency as we journeyed up the M1.

Although Clarke had lost the quality of David Hirst due to financial constraints, he still had an experienced group that included ex-Nottingham Forest midfielder Stuart Gray, Paul Futcher, Larry May and Steve Lownes plus the potential of the likes of John Beresford.



Barnsley boss Allan Clarke

However, it was not going well for them in the league at the time and Barnsley would not record their first win until their trip to Grimsby Town between these two Tottenham ties.

On a chilly night at Oakwell we were quickly into our stride when Chris Waddle fired us ahead in the fourth minute. But then two goals from that season's regular Barnsley marksman Gray – one a penalty – encouraged an already spirited home side to even greater efforts as their confidence surged and we realised that, if we didn't stand up to their physicality and verve, then we could well go under.

Typically it was our own terrier Graham Roberts who pulled us back into it with a powerful long-range shot before Clive Allen curled a low free-kick past home 'keeper Clive Baker in the closing minutes.

That set up a fascinating second leg at the Lane, Barnsley's cup debut against Spurs in N17, and although we would eventually triumph 5-3 for an 8-5 aggregate, our visitors' consistent self belief meant that we could only relax at the final whistle.

Debutant Shaun Close quickly extended our overall advantage and although Glenn Hoddle added another two goals and Tony Galvin and Clive Allen also found the Barnsley net, our visitors battled on with goals from Beresford, centre-half May and teenager Ian Chandler.

As Pleat summed up afterwards: "If we can keep our game fluent, we must have a good chance of progress – but cup tie football is a one-off business and if we defend as lazily as we did in the second leg against Barnsley we could be saying goodbye to the competition."

So not only was meeting Barnsley a trial – it was also an education that would stand us in good stead for the games ahead.

As we look forward to our Golf Day at The Grove on Monday, October 9, when you have the chance to compete for the Hotspur Trophy and play 18 holes of Championship Golf with Spurs Legends, we asked Micky Hazard to comment on the golfing talents of his fellow former players who will be featuring in the competition.

DARREN ANDERTON
A very good golfer and hits the ball very long, great company on the golf course but needs to play a bit more. I think he only plays about six days a week so can fit in a lot more!

OSSIE ARDILES
His handicap is 24 or is it 18 or 20? Depends on what he fancies but a very dangerous player, a great partner to have and good fun - and a bandit sometimes!

MARK FALCO
A very good 12 handicap and could easily play off nine, don't mess with him in the banter stakes as he's a master of the one liner!

GRAHAM ROBERTS
Plays off 13 but could easily play off nine, hits the ball miles but does get a lot of weight behind the shot! He wins most tournaments but we can't cut his handicap as he's a bit of a hard man and who's going to tell him!

JOHN LACY
Superb golfer and a lovely man who plays off seven and easily plays to it. A better golfer today than he's ever been, he's like a fine bottle of wine who gets better with age.

RAY CLEMENCE
Plays off 18 and is pretty decent off that handicap. He has the slowest back swing you will ever see, don't challenge him on football as he's probably the most successful goalie in the history of English football, his honours are scary!

PAT JENNINGS
A very good golfer and has been as low as a four handicap, has a great touch and feel around the greens, which is surprising when you see the size of his hands. I often wonder if he could play one-handed like he did as a goalie!

CLIFF JONES
One of the nicest guys in football, and at 82 years of age still likes to walk round the course. He is a very good golfer for his age and hits the ball straight as an arrow.

TEDDY SHERINGHAM
A very good golfer playing off five, so meticulous in everything he does on the course, just as he was at football. He is another one who plays most days, dresses like a proper golfer too and great company on the course.

PAUL MILLER
If being a good golfer was down to how you dressed Paul would be number one in the world! An 18 handicap who on his day can be very dangerous, loves to talk and actually out talks me - which is saying something!

MICKY HAZARD
And finally me - the best 24 handicap out there, very competitive and loves a bit of a wind up with his opponents. Doesn't like losing. In actual fact, plays off six and on his day, can be very good!

THE GROVE

'CALD' TO ARMS

Paul Miles catches up with our former Scottish defender Colin Calderwood to reminisce about a previous clash with Barnsley, when he saved us from the unthinkable threat of relegation from the Premier League.

COLIN CALDERWOOD

It's safe to assume that no sooner had Adam Hammill popped in a last-minute winner for Barnsley against Derby to set up this evening's third round tie in the Carabao Cup, Spurs fans of a certain age were harking back to a goal at Oakwell from modern-day hero, 'Le Magnifique', David Ginola.

It was a certainly a thing of beauty as Ginola, his famous locks flowing, cut in from the left touchline and left four defenders in his wake before slotting home. It was Ricky Villa at Wembley all over again, as the commentator drooled 'he's taken on the whole Barnsley defence and left them standing'. It was Ginola at his best and the goal secured a 1-0 win and place in the FA Cup semi-final – March 1999.

There was another goal at Oakwell, however, less than a year earlier – and it was arguably more important.

There was nothing Ginola-esque about this one – although the scorer displayed a commendable striker's instinct in the penalty area – but the celebrations certainly matched it.

The reason? It might have just staved off relegation. Relegation? Our younger supporters must be scratching their heads. But that was reality towards the end of the 1997-98 season and believe us, defeat was not on the menu that day.

To put it into context, there were only four matches remaining in the Premier League when we travelled to Oakwell on Saturday, April 18, sitting fourth from bottom of the table – one place above the relegation zone – and just two above Barnsley. To simplify it, lose and we were in the drop zone with three matches left.

Things didn't exactly go to plan, either. Barnsley put us under pressure in the first half and took the lead through Neil Redfearn. Jurgen Klinsmann missed a good chance and was substituted at half-time. Headline-writers were ready…

Thankfully, we had a saviour. Colin Calderwood, who played 32 times for us that season, was there when it mattered to divert home Allan Nielsen's shot when Barnsley failed to clear Ginola's corner. His celebrations were crazy.

It wasn't plain sailing from there, either. Ramon Vega was sent off with 20 minutes remaining but we re-organised with Colin dropping from midfield into the back four and we held on, comfortably in the end as the Tykes didn't really trouble us from there.

"I remember it being a bigger game than anyone can probably recollect now, simply because of the situation we found ourselves in," said Colin, now assistant coach to Steve Bruce at Aston Villa.

"Barnsley could have climbed above us if they had won, that would have left us in the bottom three and we had big games coming up (forthcoming opponents Newcastle and Wimbledon were just above the relegation zone).

"Barnsley had also beaten us in the FA Cup earlier that season too. It was such a high-pressure game at the time and they really celebrated that FA Cup win – as they were entitled to do.

"For that league match, Oakwell was absolutely rocking, I remember that, because they got ahead in a game they needed to win as well. Neither of us could afford to lose, for sure.

"My goal got us back into the game but then Ramon Vega got himself sent off, so we played the last 20 minutes with 10 men. I was playing in midfield that day, Ramon got sent off and I went into the back four. They had Darren Barnard playing for them wide and Stephen Carr kept going out to try and block his crosses, I remember saying to him 'don't go anywhere, sit in here, we'll defend in here' and we kept them out. In all honesty, we weren't in too much danger after that.

"The feeling after was that the draw was a much better result for us, everyone felt the importance of not losing that game.

"My celebrations were borne out of how Barnsley celebrated their FA Cup win in the February but more than anything, it was a sense of relief.

"Barnsley's goalkeeper that day, Dave Watson, became goalkeeping coach for me at Northampton, Forest, Norwich and Birmingham. I relive that goal every time I see him! I scored five times that season and if you add up the total yards from goal, it must come to about eight yards!"

BOB HEWITSON

BERT HODGKINSON IAN HENDON DAVID TUTTLE JOHN COLLINS

ALEX WRIGHT DANNY BLANCHFLOWER ROHAN RICKETTS JOE SCOTT

IAN MOORES DOUG HUNT

BOB HEWITSON: Bob was our goalkeeper when we played our first ever Football League game, keeping a clean sheet as we beat Wolves 3-0 at the Lane on the opening day of the 1908-09 season. He had joined Barnsley in May, 1903, and played for Crystal Palace and Oldham before reaching the Lane in June, 1908.

BERT HODGKINSON: Started out with Barnsley where he was signed from local football in November, 1923. A powerful left-back, he moved to Spurs in August, 1930, and went straight into the first team, making his debut on the opening day when we beat Reading 7-1 at the Lane. Left us for Colwyn Bay two years later.

IAN HENDON: A product of our youth scheme, the Hornchurch-born defender started with us as a Trainee in July, 1988, turned pro the following year and was in the first team, by March, 1991. Played on loan for a number of clubs, including Barnsley from March, 1993. Made the permanent move to Orient in the following August.

DAVID TUTTLE: Another former Trainee with Spurs who signed as a pro in February, 1990, and made his senior debut that November. With so much competition for places at centre-half, he left us for Sheffield United in 1993 and had his best years with Crystal Palace, followed by a brief spell at Barnsley from August, 1999.

JOHN COLLINS: Was already a Wales schoolboy international, when he joined us as an apprentice in April, 1964. Turned pro in March, 1966, and immediately made his first team debut at Sunderland. However, we were strong at full-back so the Wales Under-23 man moved on to Portsmouth in 1971 and by December, 1976, was with Barnsley.

ALEX WRIGHT: Top scorer with Barnsley in season 1949-50 when we were promoted to the top flight and added the versatile Scot to our ranks. Wright scored on his debut at home to Chelsea as we raced to the Championship title but was allowed to leave for Bradford PA at the end of the campaign.

DANNY BLANCHFLOWER: Rated by many as our best-ever player, Danny captained Northern Ireland and Spurs, leading us to the 'Double' in 1961. The 'complete player', Blanchflower left Belfast to sign for Barnsley in April, 1949. Moved to Aston Villa two years later before Arthur Rowe brought him to the Lane in December, 1954.

ROHAN RICKETTS: Born in Clapham, he turned pro at Arsenal in August, 2001, before joining us the following year. Played on loan at Coventry and Wolves before joining the latter permanently and arriving at Barnsley in July, 2007. Left for Canada within a year and has since played for clubs across the globe.

JOE SCOTT: Free-scoring winger who Barnsley spotted playing for Rotherham County and signed in March, 1928. He was only at Oakwell for a couple of months when new Spurs boss Billy Minter added him to his team rebuilding and Scott scored on his debut at home to Wolves early in the 1928-29 season.

IAN MOORES: Established an impressive reputation at first club Stoke and was already an England Under-23 international when he signed for Spurs in August, 1976. Quickly made a goalscoring debut at Boro in the League Cup and again at Manchester United in his first league game. Joined Barnsley on loan in February, 1983.

DOUG HUNT: Joined us as an amateur in 1932 and received his footballing education at our Northfleet nursery before signing pro in March, 1934. Made his debut at Grimsby on Christmas Day but found first team opportunities limited so moved to Barnsley in March, 1937, and then on to Sheffield Wednesday. Guested for us during World War Two.

For a country like South Africa, I've seen firsthand how sport has the ability to unite people, I witness it even more every week at our Club. The atmosphere of sharing your excitement, happiness and frustration with like-minded Supporters at a matchday social is the closest you can get to being at White Hart Lane.

Being a part of Tottenham Hotspur gives me a sense of pride and a sense of belonging which is interesting considering that I was not born in London. Tottenham Hotspur is my passion!"

Jonathan Woodgate toasts a brilliant victory here at Wembley

WOODY'S WONDERFUL WEMBLEY WIN

Looking back on one of our League Cup triumphs here at Wembley Stadium, when Jonathan Woodgate became a Tottenham hero! By Paul Miles

Jonathan Woodgate took less than a month to carve his name in Spurs folklore.

The cultured defender joined us from Middlesbrough on January 28, 2008…and he scored the winner against Chelsea in the League Cup Final at Wembley on February 24.

It wasn't just the goal though, 'Woody' and Ledley King were imperious as a central defensive partnership that day, incredible when you consider this was the first time they'd played together.

We were the better team throughout only for Didier Drogba to give Chelsea the lead from a first-half free-kick. Dimitar Berbatov's cool-as-ice penalty levelled it in the second period and just four minutes into second half, Woody headed home what turned out to be the winner. It was our first trophy for nine years and we became the first club to win the League Cup at the new Wembley, following its opening the previous May.

Here are Woody's recollections of a day which will live long in the memory…

"I'd only just signed. Michael Dawson had played all the games up to the final but he was injured. I remember the day before the final, Juande Ramos took us away to The Grove Hotel. We went go-karting and it settled us all down.

"We had a good team on paper and I remember thinking in a one-off game, we had a really good chance. We had individuals who could produce on the day.

"We had resilience and we had a lot of quality, we knew we could beat any team on our day with the players we had, the likes of myself and Ledley at the back, Tom Huddlestone, Jermain Jenas and Aaron Lennon with

> “IT WAS AN AMAZING FEELING, ONE YOU WISH FOR WHEN YOU ARE A YOUNG KID PLAYING IN THE SCHOOLYARD”

Robbie Keane and Dimitar Berbatov up front. It was a strong spine.

“We played well in the first half but then Drogba scored with a free-kick. He ran up, hit it with the side of his foot and it went in. We were all disappointed but we thought ‘we’ve still got a chance, we can win this’. We had a good talk at half-time and went from there.

“Berba scored the equaliser from the penalty spot, sending the goalkeeper the wrong way. I wasn’t nervous at all as he stepped up to take it because he was such a cool character.

“We went for it at 1-1. I remember getting cramp after about 70 minutes and thinking ‘how am I going to get through this?’ It went to extra time and my body was in a bit of turmoil. To be fair, Ledley’s was as well! It was really hard, especially up against Drogba, who was an exceptional player.

“But we knew we could win it. We created the better chances in the game and Juande said to keep on going and you’ll be victorious. It took hard work, a lot of effort, graft and mental toughness from the players.

“I remember going up for a free-kick and JJ was standing over it, I was pointing ‘put it in there’ because I wanted to attack it. Drogba was marking me and he wasn’t great marking at set-pieces. The ball came over, I attacked it, headed it at Petr Cech and he punched it back on to me and luckily it went in.

“It was an amazing feeling, one you wish for when you are a young kid playing in the schoolyard, to score the winning goal in a cup final at Wembley.

“I don’t know how I ran off, I was so tired from cramp but I found the energy from somewhere! Everyone was delighted, my family were there and it was a great day for the whole club.”

The moment of truth as Woodgate beats Petr Cech to score the winner

GIRLS FLOCK TO COLLEGE PROGRAMME

Tottenham Hotspur Foundation has seen an increase in the number of girls enrolling on to this year's Education and Football Development Centre programme at Barnet and Southgate College.

The course offers an exciting opportunity for local young people aged 16-19 to combine academic studies with Academy-standard coaching.

This year there are 35 girls starting the programme, which has been delivered in partnership with Barnet and Southgate College for the past six years.

In the classroom, students are given the chance to study a range of courses including BTEC Level 1 to 3 in Sport and vocational coaching awards. On the pitch, they take part in a full schedule of regular training delivered by experienced and qualified coaches from Tottenham Hotspur Foundation and Spurs Ladies, and play both friendly and competitive matches against other local teams.

This year, the Foundation has employed Spurs Ladies first team player, Renee Hector, who will be supporting the growth of female football across a number of its community projects. Renee will work closely with this year's Education and Football Development Centre students at Barnet and Southgate College, sharing her expertise both on and off the pitch and acting as a positive young role model for participants wanting to pursue a career in either coaching or playing football.

Karen Hills, Girls and Women's Development Manager at Tottenham Hotspur Foundation and Manager of Spurs Ladies, said: "This year we've seen more girls than ever before enrol on to our programme at Barnet and Southgate College.

"We're pleased to have Renee joining the Foundation coaching team this academic year – she is an inspiring coach who has gained a lot of experience of playing women's football to a high level at a young age. This will enable her to share and support the students who have enrolled on to this year's programme at the college."

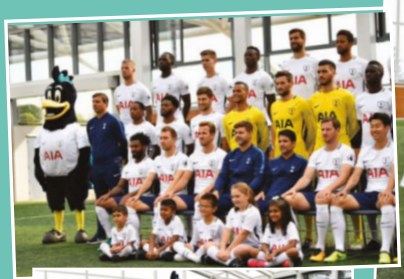
It was billed as the best photo ever and for five lucky Junior Member winners, this was a picture to remember.

Our five photocall competition winners were invited to our Hotspur Way Training Centre to line up alongside the whole of the Spurs squad.

We welcomed Angelos Ayiotis (aged five), Daniel Cheung (nine), Jaimin Jeebun (six), Beatrice Parry (10) and Safiyah Shaikh (seven) – and Chirpy and Lily of course!

Each of them received a brand new home kit as part of their prize, and it was straight into the indoor dome for the shoot to begin.



Mauricio and his coaching team came over specially to say hello to the Juniors, welcome their families and put everyone at ease.

Then, after all the official shots, it was time for the Junior photo. Chirpy and Lily joined the line-up to capture a very special shot to treasure forever.

There was just time for a photo with Harry Kane, our One Hotspur Junior President, and some autographs, before the Juniors and their families had a chat with Spurs TV.

Goody bags in hand, the Juniors made their way home, looking forward to receiving their very own copy of the 'Best Photo Ever'.

WHEN DAVID MET BARNSLEY

Andy Greeves looks back on David Ginola's contribution to five eventful meetings with Barnsley in the late 1990s.

David Ginola and Allan Nielsen celebrate the Frenchman's strike at the Lane in 1997

In 1997, Barnsley were promoted to the top flight of English football for the first time in their 99-year history. The Tykes settled well into Premier League life, with two wins in their opening four fixtures during the 1997-98 season, but they ultimately succumbed to relegation come the end of the campaign.

Barnsley visited White Hart Lane on December 20, 1997, for their first league match against us since 1950. Both clubs were in the division's bottom three at the time and we were smarting from two heavy defeats in our previous games – losing 6-1 at home to Chelsea and 4-0 at Coventry City. One of the big plusses for us in a difficult campaign – that eventually saw us finish 14th, some four points above the relegation zone – were the performances of David Ginola. The Frenchman, who signed for us from Newcastle United in the summer of 1997, quickly became a fans' favourite with his displays of flair and trickery.

In that vital six-pointer against Barnsley in 1997, Ginola was the star of the show. After Allan Nielsen gave us the lead after just five minutes, the winger doubled our advantage shortly after with a low shot creeping under the body of Tykes keeper Lars Leese. Before the 20-minute mark, we were three up as Ginola got on the end of a Ruel Fox cross to head past Leese for his second goal of the afternoon.

The following day's newspapers praised Ginola's performance against Barnsley. The News of the World wrote, "If Nielsen was the driving force behind this desperately-needed three points, then it was Ginola who produced the style, the panache, to quicken the pulse rate." The People added, "Apart from the goals there were times when he (Ginola) beat three men in the space of three feet. It seemed impossible but he did it."

Having been drawn against Barnsley in the fourth round of the FA Cup during the 1997-98 season, we faced the South Yorkshire outfit at White Hart Lane again less than a month on from our Premier League encounter. Sol Campbell gave us a first-half lead in the January 24, 1998, match, heading in Ginola's corner on the half-hour mark. The Frenchman came close to doubling our advantage in the second half, with his 20-yard free-kick crashing against the Tykes' crossbar. Just before the hour, Barnsley were awarded a penalty which Neil Redfearn converted to ensure a 1-1 draw and set-up an Oakwell replay.

Ginola's display against Barnsley was again heralded by the media. "His (Ginola's) distribution and touch were things of beauty," purred the Independent on Sunday.

The replay in South Yorkshire was definitely an occasion to forget for us. Our striker Jürgen Klinsmann suffered a broken jaw in the match, while were reduced to 10 men early in the second half when Stephen Clemence was sent-off for a second bookable offence. The home side seized the initiative with their man advantage, taking the lead a minute after Clemence's red card through Ashley Ward and Redfearn made it two without reply before the hour mark. Unsurprisingly, it was Ginola who offered us hope on the night, curling in a fabulous free-kick on 72 minutes. However, Darren Barnard confirmed Barnsley's 3-1 victory and a place in the next round, with a goal two minutes from time.

We returned to Oakwell on April 18, 1998, for a Premier League match and once again, we were reduced to 10 men as Ramon Vega was dismissed just after the hour mark. Colin Calderwood's second half goal cancelled out Redfearn's effort in the first period, meaning we came away with an important point. Ginola could have won the game for us late on, but was denied in a one-on-one situation with Barnsley keeper David Watson.

While the 1997-98 season was a difficult one for us, our fortunes were vastly improved the following campaign. Prior to visiting Barnsley for an FA Cup quarter-final tie on March 16, 1999, we were just a few points off a top half position in the Premier League and had already claimed our first piece of silverware of the campaign in the shape of the League Cup.

The Tykes, who finished 13th in the old Division One in 1998-99, had their chances in a tightly-fought match at Oakwell. Craig Hignett hit a fantastic shot from 25 yards in the first half, but our goalkeeper Ian Walker was well-positioned to deal with his effort.

On 68 minutes, Ginola produced another moment of magic in a season of immense personal success. Receiving the ball wide on the left, he slalomed his way past four Barnsley challenges before slotting the ball under Barnsley goalkeeper Tony Bullock. It was, without doubt, one of the most iconic goals in our long and distinguished history.

"David Ginola last night kept Spurs on course for a Wembley double with a goal that guaranteed his place as a White Hart Lane legend," wrote the Daily Star, after the winger's flash of brilliance secured us a 1-0 victory and a place in the FA Cup semi-final. "The name of David Ginola was burned indelibly into the pages of Tottenham folklore," added The Mirror.

Ginola's former club Newcastle United beat us 2-0 after extra-time in the semi-final at Old Trafford, extinguishing our hopes of a cup double that campaign. The Frenchman's scintillating form during the 1998-99 season, in which he scored seven goals in 41 appearances for us, saw him crowned as both the Professional Footballers' Association and Football Writers' Association Player of the Year.

David departed White Hart Lane for Aston Villa in the summer of 2000, having scored 22 goals for us in 127 appearances. He also played for Toulon, RC Paris, Brest, Paris Saint-Germain, Newcastle United and Everton during his career and won a total of 17 caps for France between 1990 and 1995, scoring three times.

Pat Jennings... always a safe pair of hands

WEMBLEY MEMORIES

Each matchday, Andy Greeves speaks to a former Spurs player about their memories of Wembley Stadium during their career. This evening, Pat Jennings looks back on numerous visits to the venue for club and country, including two League Cup Final appearances in the early 1970s.

Pat Jennings was just 17 years of age when he got to play at Wembley Stadium for the first time. 'Big Pat' started for Northern Ireland in the final of the UEFA International Youth Tournament against England on April 23, 1963.

"It was unbelievable to get to play at what was and is the Mecca for world football," comments Pat, who went on to win a record 119 caps for his country's senior team. "At the time, I was working for a timber gang on a mountain in Northern Ireland and I was playing for my local team Newry Town. Less than a fortnight on from my most recent shift on the mountain, I was playing in the final of a major international youth competition at Wembley!

"I signed for Watford the following month and later that year, I returned to Wembley to play for a 'Rest of the UK' youth team against England (November 6, 1963). There are some fantastic players who had brilliant careers but never got to play at Wembley so I feel very fortunate that I had played there twice before my professional career had even really begun."

Jennings' first game for the Northern Ireland senior team came against Wales in Swansea on April 15, 1964, in a match that also marked George Best's international debut. The goalkeeper made 20 appearances against England during his career, with nine of those fixtures here at Wembley Stadium. He was on the losing side in the first of those matches, as goals from Joe Baker and Alan Peacock gave the Three Lions a 2-1 victory on November 10, 1965, while Willie Irvine got the visitors' consolation.

> “I GREW UP WATCHING THE FA CUP FINAL ON MY AUNT’S TV... TO PLAY AT WEMBLEY WAS A DREAM”

“I don’t have any specific memories of that match, but it was obviously fantastic to get to play a full international at Wembley,” comments Pat. “The result that stands out in terms of Northern Ireland playing here was our 1-0 win against England (on May 23, 1972). Terry Neill got our goal that afternoon.

“We also had a big result against England on my last Wembley appearance (November 13, 1985). We went there knowing we needed a draw to qualify for the World Cup in Mexico in 1986 and we did just that, as I kept a clean sheet in a goalless draw.”

After impressing in his debut season in English football for Watford in 1963-64, Bill Nicholson swooped to sign Jennings for a fee of £27,000 during the summer of 1964. He went on to made 545 appearances in two spells with us between 1964 and 1977 and from 1985 to 1986. He collected his first major honour as a professional football as a result of our 2-1 triumph over Chelsea in the 1967 FA Cup Final.

The FA Cup winners’ victory parade, 1967

“I grew up watching the FA Cup Final every year on my aunt’s television back in Northern Ireland,” smiles Jennings. “To get to play in a final at Wembley was a dream come true.

“We went two up in the game against Chelsea before Bobby Tambling got one back for them late on. I was disappointed to concede that goal, as I felt I could have probably done a bit better. Over the years though, I have seen some footage of that final and I saw two or three really good saves I made in that game. It was great to have contributed to the victory in that way.

“I got numerous telegrams and letters after the final. One of them came from Peter McParland, who 10 years earlier had scored two goals for Aston Villa as they beat Manchester United in the 1957 FA Cup Final. Peter had lived on the same road as me – Chapel Street in Newry. It was quite something for two FA Cup winners to come from the same town, let alone the same street!”

Pat also tasted League Cup Final glory here, starting in both our 2-0 triumph over Aston Villa in 1971 and our 1-0 win against Norwich City two years later.

“It was great to be back at Wembley to play in those League Cup Finals,” says Jennings, who these days works as a goalkeeping consultant for our Academy and also a matchday host. “We beat Villa in 1971, who played their football in the Third Division at the time.

“They played very well on the day and I can remember some real battles between Mike England and Andy Lochhead. It took a while for the breakthrough to come, but Martin Chivers ended up scoring twice for us. Then in 1973, Ralph Coates came on as a substitute for John Pratt in the final against Norwich. Football is often a funny old game and that was the case that day, with a substitute getting the winner. We were all delighted for Ralph."

Earlier that year, Jennings had played in the 'Common Market Match' that celebrated Great Britain joining the European Economic Community (EEC). That game pitted 'The Three' (players from the home nations plus fellow Common Market newcomers the Republic of Ireland and Denmark) against 'The Six' (players from existing EEC nations Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, Italy, West Germany and France). 'The Three' won 2-0, thanks to goals from Henning Jensen and Colin Stein, with star players on show that night including Bobby Moore, Bobby Charlton, Franz Beckenbauer, Gerd Müller and Johan Neeskens.

Then in 1979, Pat won the FA Cup for the second time in his career, playing for Arsenal in their 3-2 triumph over Manchester United at Wembley.

"I had lost the FA Cup Final the previous season against Ipswich Town, so it was great to atone for that a year on," adds Jennings, who made 327 appearances for the Gunners between 1977 and 1985.

"I experienced the worst few minutes of my career in that game as United came from 2-0 down to make it 2-2 late on. When we were two up with something like four minutes to go, I had already pictured myself going up the steps to collect my medal, so when Gordon McQueen and Sammy McIlroy scored (for Manchester United), it was a sinking feeling. Luckily, Alan Sunderland came up with a winning goal for us a minute after United had equalised!"
